MOTION FOR PARTY STATUS OF 350 Bay Area

I. Introduction

350 Bay Area moves for party status in this proceeding in accordance with Section 1.4 of the California Public Utilities Commission (“Commission”) Rules of Practice and Procedure.

II. Interest in this Proceeding

350 Bay Area is a non-profit, all volunteer organization with Internal Revenue Code 501(c)4 status, working for deep reductions in carbon emissions in the Bay Area and beyond. Founded in 2012, 350 Bay Area has a reach of eleven thousand people, primarily concentrated in the nine Bay Area counties. 350 Bay Area is an influential voice in the regional environmental movement, and set a milestone in September 2014 by becoming the first all-volunteer organization to air a television commercial calling for action on climate change. 350 Bay Area sponsored a conference in May 2014 which attracted three hundred attendees, and included presentations by Professor Mark Jacobson of Stanford and Richard Heinberg of the Post-Carbon Institute. 350 Bay Area is an active member of Californians for Energy Choice, which works to protect at the state level the rights of municipalities to pursue community choice aggregation. 350 Bay Area succeeded in winning a resolution by the Bay Area Air Quality Management District (BAAQMD) to cut carbon emissions in the Bay Area 80% by 2050. The vast majority of 350 Bay Area’s members receive residential electrical service from one of California’s investor-owned utilities.

350 Bay Area is a strong advocate for clean energy on the state and local levels, and sees its work in the context of transitioning California to 100% renewable energy, which experts say is possible by 2050. 350 Bay Area recognizes the great impact of community choice energy programs in expanding distributed generation in California. 350 Bay Area members were active in the creation of the San Francisco Clean Power community choice energy program, and have been working actively to support development of community choice programs in Santa Clara and San Mateo counties. 350 Bay Area wishes to become an active party to this proceeding in order to ensure that the outcome is consistent with continued growth of community choice energy programs in California. 350 Bay Area intends to participate in all relevant aspects of this proceeding as they arise, including attendance at workshops, submission of comments, submission of testimony, participation in hearings, and submission of briefing. 350 Bay Area was a party to the proceeding concerning net metering (Rulemaking 14-07-002) and participated actively in submitting comments, and attending workshops and Commission meetings. 350 Bay Area is well-positioned to engage fully in this proceeding.
